

A technical line drawing of a gas cooktop. It features a rectangular body with a slightly raised front edge. On the front face, there are six circular control knobs arranged in a horizontal row. The cooktop surface is equipped with six gas burners, each with a distinct burner cap. The burners are arranged in two rows of three. The drawing is a perspective view, showing the top and front of the unit.

