HERITAGE

Sophisticated, detailed, unique

FULLER

Vintage plumbing, such as Fuller ball valves, were popular in the 20th century. These knobs and pulls inspired by 20th century craftsmanship have evolved, but embody the same characteristics of heritage bathrooms.

VINTAGE 1900

Influenced by the late 19th Century revival of handicrafts known as the Arts & Crafts movement, our Vintage 1900 Collection pays homage to this period, accentuated by faux screws and a functional latch.

REFINING ELEGANCE SINCE 1893

The experience of seeing cabinet hardware in person is invaluable. The texture, finish, and weight of each part is an integral part of choosing the perfect piece for your space.

Our display towers represent the full product line of items designed by our in-house design team, filled with trend relevant designs for today's home décor.

This fresh tower shows various sizes and finishes of each collection to get the full scope of item availability. The knobs represent all the finishes available in each collection.

We have a display solution for you based on your showroom's needs: the destination location of a floor-standing tower, or a minimum of 4 space-saving wall mounted boards.

Each board hosts 2-4 collections, showing the collection name and the part numbers underneath each part.

If you would like to feature Belwith-Keeler in your showroom, contact sales@belwith.com
