

ClayLight Cluster chandelier is a composition of perforated white ceramic pendants sectioned at different locations of an egg - each different section cut exposes a different egg shade - symmetrical or Asymmetrical.

The chandelier's floating white clay shades have a natural and timeless quality that is both utilitarian and sensual. They throw light textures around them and emit both bounced and direct downward lighting.

Shades and plate are hand made of white ceramic.

This chandelier is available with line pattern perforation or dot pattern perforation.
